SUPERINTENDENT HIGHLIGHTS

Good evening.

I hope this message finds you and your family well. Following up on our second day of distance learning I would like to share the following notes.

- Some parents expressed concern about seeing red x marks (instead of green checks) when viewing attendance records in Genesis. Please do not be concerned about the red x marks; your attendance submissions were made. The red x mark indicates that we have yet to process your submission on our end. Nothing for you to be concerned about, but if you would like a more detailed explanation, see the last part of the attendance instructions that were updated to reflect this new information (click here).
- We understand that many parents are working from home and managing their children as well. The situation can be especially challenging if working parents are trying to assist younger children with school work. Our teachers understand. Please communicate with them if you feel the workload is too little or too much; we want to strike the right balance.
- Our nursing team continues to produce great resources for your reference. Please check out the two supporting attachments that came with this message. Some helpful talking points and videos are included.

Once again, today was filled with lots of celebration of successes, thank you so much for that. Our teachers so appreciate your kindness as they venture out to try new things to connect with the students. Thank you for your support. Nick.
